👉 In these volatile times, cost control is more important than ever.

Construction costs always played an important role in achieving the desired profits. That is why the developers and banks hire cost consultants to minimize the risks. But what is different now?

The difference is that the trust among all the stakeholders - banks, investors, trades - is gone. The past several weeks showed that the professionals - financial investors, economists, bankers - have no comprehension of the forces contributing to market turmoil.

As a result - the facts play bigger role than ever. Make sure that all of the facts from the source are analysed in depth in your cost assessments.

In the New Year, we will show you how to analyze the facts!

👉 Cost of Green Technology

We have been asked many times by our Clients, what is the cost of green technology - renovations, new construction or combination of both. The answer is yes, yes and yes.

YES - there is cost benefit of implementing green technology YES - it can be done in small steps, rather than going to the platinum level at once, YES - we recommend it.

Please note that our associate Catherine Chiffert is LEED certified.
